

The InsideOut Leadership Development Programme

The InsideOut Leadership Development Programme

With three programme levels, InsideOut builds Leadership capability in manageable chunks, recognising the need for flexible learning solutions that fit with busy schedules

Your business will benefit from skilled leaders:

Our customers tell us that we've helped them to start a new chapter in their business success by developing their leaders, and we'd really love to help you to start your own new chapter too.

l've been in the learning and development game for 26 years and this event is top of the list in terms of activities, involvement and professionalism.
Everything was well orchestrated and I would definitely recommend New Chapter Learning

Ray Harrison - Head of Operational Learning and Development, Barclaycard

Why it works

Because we are dedicated to making the complicated simple, our programme gets you thinking and changing right away.

Everything about the environment we put you in supports the learning, and we mean EVERYTHING!

You make changes that stick and open a New Chapter in your leadership success.

The proof

116.8% increase in post knowledge levels of leadership skills compared to pre course levels.

levels rose by 111.1% when back in the workplace.

These increases were described by Thomas Shepherds team as 'unprecedented' and 'off the scale'.

InsideOut Overview

InsideOut for teams

For teams old and new, InsideOut for teams provides a learning experience that takes you on a personal journey of discovery. The themes of the day are Celebrating Success and Sharing Skills, two key areas that underpin how great teams behave and support each other.

InsideOut for Leaders - Level 1

100% of our delegates said they remembered the learning 3 months on - now that's really sticky!

When leaders have the right behaviours, they create teams that perform and demonstrate leadership that inspires. InsideOut for Leaders provides thought provoking experiences that easily translate into simple actions that make a huge difference. During the InsideOut learning event, these skills are put into practice immediately and embedded with post learning support.

InsideOut for Leaders - Level 2

This programme is the next logical level for leaders who need to influence and drive their teams and their business, building a deep knowledge of what it takes to be a leader, followed by practical post learning support.

What makes us unique?

InsideOut is fast, fun and different from any capability building programme you have ever experienced before.

Why choose InsideOut?

Mixing the best kinds of indoor classroom learning techniques with outdoor challenges and lots of fun, it feels too good to have a serious business outcome....but it does!

No theories, just straight forward and simple learning

Ever been on a course and taught stuff that just doesn't make sense back at work? Well, we don't want to waste your time trying to make some theory fit your situation. Our programme is about the simple things that work and using simple language to know it. You 'get it' straight away and that gives you lots of time to practice.

Learning that sticks

As with everything we do, you get a chance to put it into practice right away. By using an outdoor adventure centre, you accelerate your learning by using your new skill, in a novel environment and have fun at the same time...perfect!

The New Chapter Learning event far exceeded my expectations and made me truly consider the changes that needed to be made, as well as giving me practical examples and advice to take back to the office.
